THE HON. SRI A. B. SHETTY :—" Sir, it has no other name in ordinary parlance. I understand that the workers in the clow and card rooms of spinning mills in England complain of cough bronchitis and asthma which subside as soon as the work is stopped."

SRI V. BALAKRISHNAN :—" Has this disease anything to do with widowers, Sir? "

THE HON. SRI A. B. SHETTY :—" Sir, it has probably something to do with newly married people." (Laughter.)

SRI S. PAKKIRISWAMY PILLAI :—" Sir, I know that there are certain workers in the Buckingham and Carnatic Mills who are found to be suffering from this disease. I would like to know whether the Government would make the necessary investigation among the workers of these mills and have this disease notified as an occupational disease? "

THE HON. SRI A. B. SHETTY :—" Sir, the hon. Member may write to the Government about this and I shall have enquiries made."

Concessional bus fare for voters
